

Admissions

Embry-Riddle considers all aspects of a student's qualifications and offers admission to the most competitive applicants, building a talented and diverse population of students motivated toward careers in aviation and aerospace. The first step in the process is to apply online.

Each campus has its own admissions team ready to help guide you through the application process. Since requirements and steps can vary depending on the campus you select, we encourage you to reach out to the admissions office at your chosen campus for details on application deadlines, tuition, checklists, and financial aid. The University reserves the right to change entrance requirements without prior notice.

Contact the respective admissions office below for more information or assistance with completing your admissions application.
