

Graduate Applicants

Embry-Riddle reviews all aspects of each applicant's qualifications to admit graduate students who have demonstrated scholastic achievement and capacity for future growth. Admissions requirements and procedures for master's and doctoral degree seeking applicants, non-degree seeking/transient graduate applicants, and certificate seeking graduate applicants vary by campus and applicant type.

For details on deadlines, tuition, and financial aid, contact the admissions office at your chosen campus. Review the graduate admission requirements that apply to you.