

Asia Campus

The Embry-Riddle Asia Campus in Singapore offers academic programs that address workforce needs in the region's aviation industry. The campus delivers undergraduate and graduate programs through flexible learning formats and partnerships, including collaboration with the Singapore Aviation Academy. Programs are designed for students and working professionals and address challenges relevant to the aviation industry in Asia. Singapore serves as a regional aviation hub and provides an international setting with a range of cultural and professional environments.

Student Handbook & Resources

Additional resources outlining everything a student needs to know for a successful academic journey are available on the ERAU Asia ERNIE (<https://myerau.edu.sharepoint.com/sites/ERAU-Asia>) site. The resources on the ERAU Asia ERNIE site will help students navigate academic life and explain their rights and responsibilities as students.
