

Specialized Academic Opportunities

Embry-Riddle provides many specialized academic opportunities to students both on-campus and off-campus to assist the students during their academics as they prepare for careers in aviation and aerospace.

These activities occur throughout the year during the Fall, Spring, and/or Summer terms and offer areas for both undergraduate and graduate student.