

Masters Regulations and Procedures

Degree Program Change

A masters student who wishes to transfer from one program to another must apply through Graduate Admissions. The department responsible for the new program has the prerogative to accept or reject the student's request and to determine the courses applicable to the new program. Requests for transfer of credits from Embry-Riddle or other institutions and/or advanced standing credits should be included in the application.

When a student elects to transfer from one degree program to another, the catalog in effect when the transfer is approved is applicable.