

Financial Aid

Financial Information

At Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, we understand that pursuing a private university education represents a significant investment in your future. Our commitment is to make that investment attainable for all students. The Office of Financial Aid provides comprehensive guidance and support to help students and families explore all available funding options, including scholarships, grants, loans, and student employment opportunities.

Students are encouraged to submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) here: <https://studentaid.gov/> and any additional required documents by the priority deadlines to ensure full consideration for all aid opportunities. Our financial aid counselors are available to assist with every step of the process, from planning and application to managing financial responsibilities throughout your academic career.

Worldwide Students

Please Note: California State Residents: If a student obtains a loan to pay for an eligible educational program of study, the student will have the responsibility to repay the full amount of the loan, plus interest, less the amount of any refund (i.e. scholarships, state, and federal grants). If the student has received federal student financial aid funds, the student is entitled to a refund of any remaining funds from the federal student aid programs after eligible university charges are paid.

Please Note: Washington State residents seeking information and resources about student loan repayment or seeking to submit a complaint relating to your student loans or student loan servicer, please visit www.wsac.wa.gov/loan-advocacy (<http://www.wsac.wa.gov/loan-advocacy>) or contact the Student Loan Advocate at loanadvocate@wsac.wa.gov.
