

Graduate Certificate in International Society of Transport Aircraft Trading (ISTA)

The International Society of Transport Aircraft Trading (ISTAT) certificate is a partnership certificate issued by ISTAT. The program is designed for students with an undergraduate background in business, accounting, finance, economics or related transportation fields who are interested in aircraft financing, leasing and related industries. Students may pursue the certificate as non-degree seeking graduate students or in conjunction with a degree program, subject to coordination with the appropriate program. In addition to university admission requirements, applicants must meet ISTAT University admission criteria and complete the ISTAT application process. Enrollment is limited to designated ISTAT courses, and applicants with international educational backgrounds may be reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

Note: Certificate programs are not eligible for Title IV Federal Financial Aid unless taken as part of a degree program.
