

B.S. in Aerospace Engineering

The Bachelor of Science in Aerospace Engineering is offered at the Daytona Beach, Florida, campus and the Prescott, Arizona, campus of Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University.

Students will build a strong foundation in engineering theory and hands-on design while learning in aviation-focused environments supported by expert faculty and industry-connected resources.

The Daytona Beach Campus Aerospace Engineering department is the largest of its kind in the country, with students benefiting from state-of-the-art resources — the same tools in use by aerospace engineering professionals around the globe. The Bachelor of Science in Aerospace Engineering is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission (<https://www.abet.org/accreditation/accreditation-criteria/criteria-for-accrediting-engineering-programs-2025-2026/>) of ABET (<https://www.abet.org/>), under the commission's General Criteria and Program Criteria for Aerospace and Similarly Named Engineering Programs. Details about Program Educational Outcomes, Student Learning Outcomes and Enrollment Data can be found on our Aerospace Engineering Program Accreditation Information (<https://daytonabeach.erau.edu/college-engineering/aerospace/accreditation>) page.

The Prescott Campus Bachelor of Science in Aerospace Engineering empowers students to excel in various aspects of the field, offering a dynamic learning environment with high-tech facilities such as the Aerospace Experimentation and Fabrication Building (AXFAB) and state-of-the-art labs. The Aerospace Engineering program is housed in the Department of Aerospace Engineering in the College of Engineering.
