

Minor in Economics and Finance

The Minor in Economics and Finance provides students with a foundational understanding of economic theory and financial decision-making in a global context. Students complete core coursework in Microeconomics and Macroeconomics, then deepen their knowledge through upper-level electives such as money and banking, managerial economics, global economics, and corporate finance. This minor develops analytical and quantitative skills used to assess markets, evaluate financial strategies, and understand economic policy, preparing students for careers or further study in business, finance, and related fields.

Some majors may not be eligible to pair with this minor. See the Minor Restrictions (<https://catalog.erau.edu/programs/undergraduate/minors/restrictions/>) list for details.
