

Minor in International Relations

The Minor in International Relations provides students with an understanding of global dynamics and the skills necessary to navigate the complexities of international affairs. The courses instill a global perspective, allowing students to comprehend geopolitical, economic, and cultural factors shaping international relations. Through critical analysis of international events, understanding of major international institutions, and exploring the intersection of science, technology, and global governance, students gain a comprehensive view of global affairs. Graduates gain skills in effective communication, research, and analytical skills and cultural competency, positioning them for careers in diplomacy, international business, aviation management, STEM fields, and other professions requiring a nuanced understanding of the interconnected global landscape.

Some majors may not be eligible to pair with this minor. See the Minor Restrictions (<https://catalog.erau.edu/programs/undergraduate/minors/restrictions/>) list for details.
