

Student Life

At Embry-Riddle, student life supports academic, professional and personal development across aviation, aerospace, engineering and related fields. Students engage with peers, faculty and campus communities through academic programs, residential life, student organizations and campus activities. Whether studying at the Daytona Beach Campus, Prescott Campus, Worldwide & Online Campus or Asia Campus in Singapore, students have access to a connected university community and a range of student involvement opportunities.

Student Services

A variety of resources and services are available to students to help them be successful at Embry-Riddle. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with and use these services to support their educational and personal needs and achieve their academic goals.
